2-WAY COTTON FABRIC

2-way cotton is a material favored by many customers because of its variety of colors, designs, thick and durable fabric, creating a sense of certainty for the wearer. Two-way cotton has these properties because it is woven with single-layer cotton, polyester, and nylon fibers. Because of that, this fabric can only stretch in a certain direction, so it is called 2-way cotton. The most popular colors of this material are:

4-WAY COTTON FABRIC

The outstanding feature of this fabric is its ability to absorb sweat well, 4-way stretch, bringing comfort and coolness to the wearer. The main components of 4-way cotton fabric are cotton yarn and spandex yarn (accounting for about 3-5%). In addition to the outstanding features as above, 4-way cotton fabric also has the ability to catch colors very well and is safe for sensitive skin. Therefore, high-end products or children's clothing often use 4-way cotton fabric. The most popular colors of this material are:

2-WAY LACOSTE FABRIC

Based on the composition, Lacoste is divided into several types. However, if based on elasticity, this material is divided into 2 basic types: 2-way Lacoste and 4-way Lacoste. In particular, 2-way Lacoste is a fabric that can only stretch horizontally, absorbs sweat well, suitable for people who exercise a lot. The most popular colors of this material are:

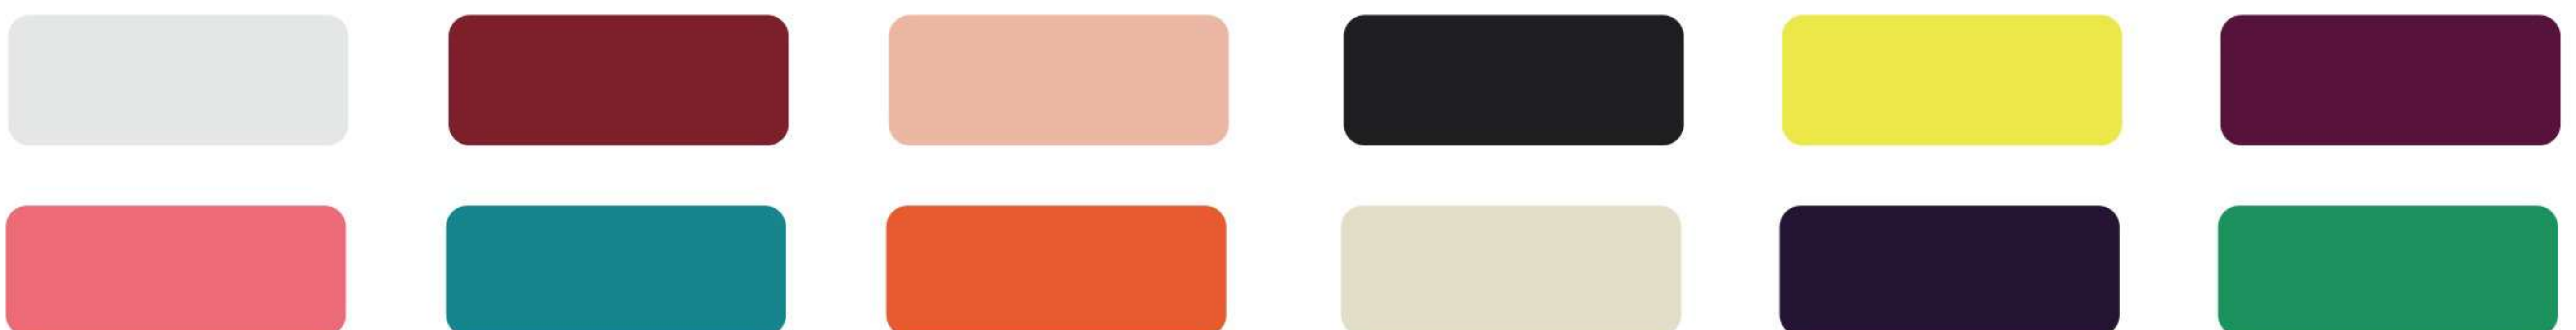

4-WAY LACOSTE FABRIC

Compared to 2-way Lacoste, 4-way Lacoste is a more advanced fabric woven based on modern technology. The main materials to create this fabric are natural cotton and Spandex yarn. In which, natural cotton yarn accounts for about 95%, the remaining 5% is Spandex. 4-way Lacoste stretches and absorbs sweat better, so the price is also higher than 2-way Lacoste. The most popular colors of this material are:

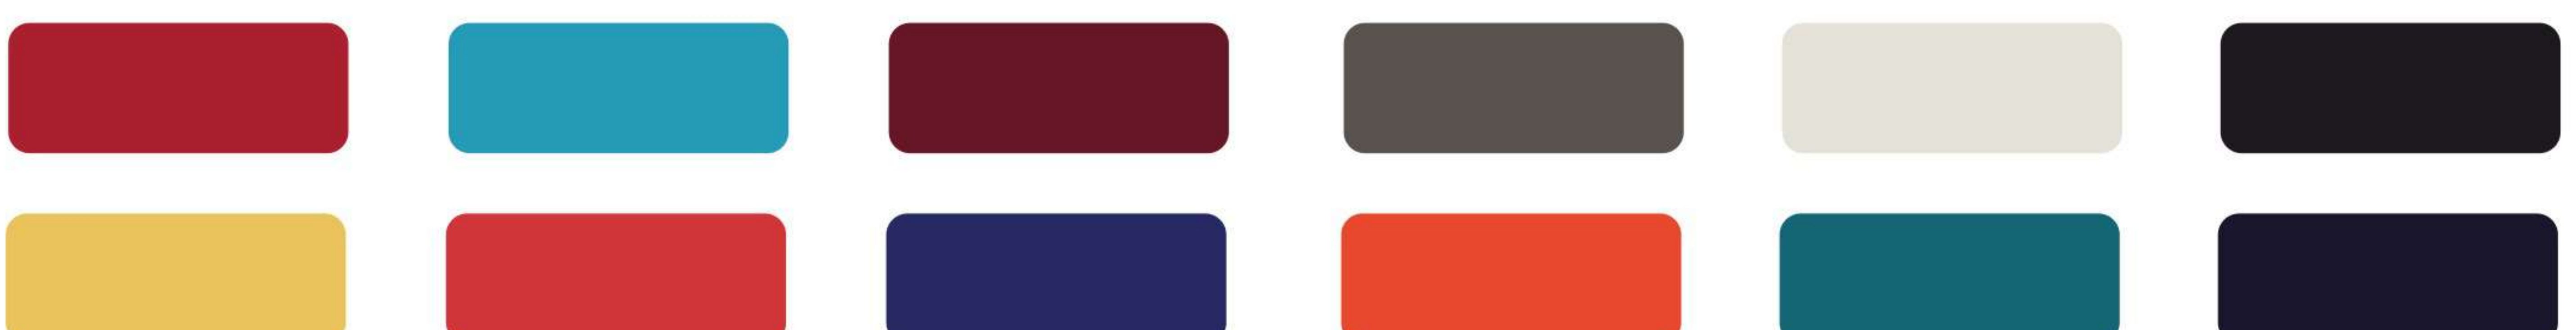

COOL SPORTS FABRIC

Cold elastic is a material that when touched will give you a cool, soft, smooth, glossy and quite slippery feeling. In particular, in the process of using the fabric, the fabric is not ruffled, wrinkled, pasty. PE or nylon fibers are the two main ingredients that make up this fabric. This explains why, cold elastic is rarely wrinkled, absorbs water slowly and is easy to wash if it gets dirty. Cold spandex is also a fabric that is diverse in design and color. The most popular colors of this material are:

THAILAND POLY FABRIC

Poly Thai, also known as Poly Thai elastic, is a material with a composition of 100% polyester fiber. Therefore, this fabric is quite thick, has good color capture and has high durability. In particular, Poly Thai is less prone to shrinking and creasing when used. Because of its outstanding advantages, Poly Thai is commonly used in apparel, especially in business uniforms or high-class sportswear. The most popular colors of this material are:
